

The Influence of Societal Discourses about Black Men on Social Work Practice

---

Black men live and experience life in a very different and unique way compared to individuals of any other race or gender.

---

This research study seeks to explore how societal narratives impact social work practice with Black men. This study will be used to culturally inform social work practice, research and policy (as applicable), specific to Black men.

Research Study Guidelines

- Participants will be asked to complete an individual interview.
- Interview times may vary but may last between 60 to 120 minutes.
- The interview may occur via Zoom or in-person.

Participants

Participants must be social workers aged 18 and over, who live and work in the U.S., and that hold a degree in social work (i.e., bachelor's degree, master's degree, or doctoral degree [DSW or PhD] in social work).

////////////////////
If you have questions, regarding the study or eligibility to participate, please contact:

Kortney Carr, LCSW, LSCSW,
Ph.D. Candidate

E: k\_carr@ku.edu
P: 913-897-8789